A WORD ABOUT FLOUR

Recently the Pure Food Commission has found that some so-called high grade flour was adulterated. The wheat was put through a bleaching process, which permitted the use of a very inferior grade, and various foreign substances were added and the mixture sold as first-class flour. To be positively sure you do not get some of that condemned flour, you would do well to buy our guaranteed brands. Brands that have stood the rigid tests of the Pure Food Commission and were pronounced strictly pure, high-grade flour, such as "Dorsey's Best" for bread, at $7.00 per barrel; St. Lawrence, for pastry, at $6.25 per barrel; "Gold Star," for either bread or pastry, at $6.50 per barrel. Our motto: "Not how cheap, but how good."

HARD TO TALK SUMMER GOODS

When the thermometer keeps touching the thirties. If you are deciding on Spring goods better see our assortment of these new kinds; also the assortment of Suisine Silks, as this is the coming cloth.

WASH GOODS.

Ginghams will lead all other fabrics. There is nothing that has the style and wear at the price.

If you can buy as good Ginghams of us at 12 1/2c as you have been buying at 15c, would you? Some will, but everyone won't. It's impossible to sell goods cheap enough to get every customer.

Another cloth is our Chiffon, with colored figures. This is a job lot of all perfect goods of the 25c grade, now at but 15c per yard.

If you have any intention of buying Muslin Underwear better see our Corset Covers at 25c and 50c, also Drawers at same price. Robes and Skirts all at new prices in keeping with reduction on cottons.

WHITE GOODS.

While the prices of cotton cloths are off, the finer goods are in a way but little affected. The goods that we are now telling you that we can sell at less than the market price are Lawns, India Linens and French Lawns. These were all bought last June and now bear prices that are from 2c to 4c per yard less than same goods brought since last September can be sold for and pay a profit.

We have another lot of that 40-inch Shrink Lawn at 25c. (This ladies will have it once used.) For waists and dresses.

FURS AND GARMENTS.

Would not make a whole call on summer goods when winter is as cold as we have been having. Not when we have loads of Winter Coats, Suits and Furs to dispose of at less than cost.

We are making another price cut to-day in view of moving these goods a little faster.

Furs at less than cost now had ready customers. Had the season been cold earlier, we would have had but few to sell at these losses. We must get them out of this way.

TO MEET AT MONTPELIER.

Ladies of The G. A. R. Will Hold Their First Convention This Month.

The department of Vermont, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, will hold its first convention at Montpelier, in the Methodist church vestry, on the same dates as the state convention of the G. A. R., and W. R. C., February 26-27. The local officer Col. John B. Meade, was the first order of the kind in Vermont. No. 3 circle, Island Pond, 3 of Northfield and 4 of Charleston were soon to follow. After a few years of prosperity Nos. 3 and 4 disbanded, and the courage of the remaining few of Nos. 1 and 2 severely tested.

If it be true that "they also serve who stand and wait," then circles 1 and 2 can modestly claim recognition on that ground alone. For several years they have answered loyally to the roll-call and stood by their pledges. There have been obstacles and disadvantages known only to those who have been likewise situated.

In the past year three more circles have been organized and a department formed on the 20th of June last. The cloud of discouragement that has shadowed the order is breaking and the dawn of its prosperity is at hand. For this little and remote department, it can justly be claimed that the work done quietly and in the face of difficulties, is receiving hearty commendation. The total membership is 190 at the last report. Fifty-five of this number are veterans.

This order is now represented in 25 states, 27 having departments and 14 circles being under national jurisdiction. The membership is upwards of 45,000 patriotic women, every one of whom is a wife or blood relation of a soldier; and thereby 20,000 veterans of the circle are honorary members of the order.

COULDN'T BE BLUFFED.

The Judge Raised, but the Culprit Promptly Called.

A correspondent sends in the following account of an incident which occurred in his presence in a Kentucky courtroom:

Under the laws of Kentucky the penalty for gaming is a fine of from $20 to $50. Judge W. W. Jones was holding a term of circuit court, and when the case of the commonwealth of Kentucky against Daniel Cross was called he asked Daniel if he had a lawyer to defend him. Daniel said he had not, and Judge Jones asked him what he wanted to do about his case, which was a charge of gaming.

"I don't know, hardly, judge," said Daniel. "I thought I would just pay it off."

"Were you actually playing?" said the judge.

"I guess we were," Daniel replied.

"About how much were you playing for, Daniel?" the judge asked.

"Oh, nothing much," said Daniel, "just a nickel or dime on the corner."

"Well, Daniel," said the judge, "I will see your time and raise you $20."

Daniel looked rather crestfallen for a moment; but, catching the force of the judge's remark, he quickly looked up at the judge and said, "Well, judge, I am satisfied that you have got me beat, so I'll not raise you, but I guess I will have to call you."—Law Notes.

The Effect on the Nerves of Gambling.

How can a man do his daily work quietly, which represents perhaps only the earning of a few shillings, when his anxious other neurotic self is wondering how a horse he has never seen, ridden by a jockey he has only heard of, in a race he has only read about, is faring as to money ostensibly his, which he cannot afford to lose because he has not perhaps got it if he should have to pay? Is such an existence likely to add to the race value of our stock of fleeting patriotism?—Fry's Magazine.

Made Him a Sinker.

Farmer Jones (to amateur hunter)—There wasn't a better water dog livin' until you shootin' geats took to borrowin' 'im. Now 'is 'ide's that full of shots 'ed sink to the bottom like a brick."—London Bystander.

The Mask.

"You should try to be a little less assertive, my dear. Remember, 'the mask shall inherit the earth.'"

"Oh, yes! I dare say they will—when the others have done with it!"—London Opinion.

Joys are not the property of the rich alone.—Hornet.

Genius! Capital! Skill! Business!

Tennyson could take a worthless piece of paper, write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000. That's Genius! Rockefeller could write a few words on a slip of paper and make it worth $5,000,000. That's Capital! Our clothing manufacturer can take a choice fabric and tailor you for $10.00, $12.00, to $25.00 the handsomest Suit or Overcoat your eyes ever rested upon. That's Skill!
